

Celebrating Triumph – Destany Terry’s Inspirational Journey to Success

December 2023

Located in Marysville, the Salvation Army Depot Recovery Program, supported by Yuba County Community Service Commission's CSBG grant funds, offers hope to those battling addiction, providing them with tools and opportunities to work towards stability and a brighter future.

Over three months ago, Destany Terry joined the program with a close friend she met in jail during COVID. They were determined to overcome their addiction together. Despite her friend's relapse, Destany remained committed to her sobriety journey. She actively engaged in the program, completed it successfully, and now has plans to complete probation, stabilize her life, and create a home for her children.

Destany's resilience caught the attention of the Sacramento Culinary Arts program, which presented an opportunity during a Friday morning house meeting at the Depot. With swift determination, she applied and, within a week, received the life-changing news of her acceptance. Undeterred by challenges, Destany purchased a vehicle and is now enrolled in the culinary program, eagerly anticipating her graduation.

This success story is a testament to the effectiveness of programs like the Depot and the positive impact of Yuba County Community Service Commission's CSBG grant funds. These resources empower organizations like the Salvation Army to create comprehensive recovery programs that inspire transformation and provide a supportive community for individuals like Destany to make positive changes in their lives. Congratulations to Destany Terry on her inspiring journey towards success!
